What's In for 2014-2015

What does "All in LC" mean to you?

Superintendent Dr. Fletcher: "This may be hard to believe, but it took over a month to develop the #AllinLC. It was my hope that it would be a phrase that evoked a sense of community pride and motivation. After becoming a part of the Lawrence County community, I learned that our people were already "All In" when it comes to the success of our kids. #AllinLC brings attention to this county-wide dedication to success and congratulates our students for each achievement in the classroom, on the field, and on the court. Finally, it is my hope that when we (students, staff, and community members) see #AllinLC, it challenges us to give our very best in every way for each student in our district. I am #AllinLC for our students. Are YOU?"

Senior President Paul Stepp: "All in" to me means, as a community, we come together and get things done. I believe we are all equal. We must be "All in" to see progress.

Junior Co-President Shelby Alger: "All in" means to, no matter what, give 100% in whatever you do. Whether it be in sports, academics, or your own personal life, you should always give your absolute best.

Sophomore Secretary Caroline Isaac: "All in" to me means, we continuously support each other and be a proud Bulldog family

Freshman President Alex Gilliam: "All in LC " means showing full support to everyone no matter how different they are, being there for anyone who needs help. All in LC shows to me that we are all a part of this wonderful school.

Mr. Scarlack

Cole McCreary

Ms. Scarlack

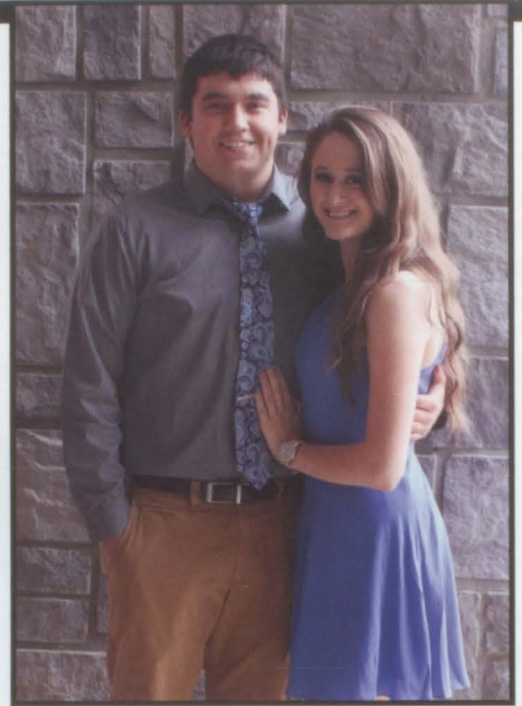

Mollie Workman

Each year the senior class selects a boy and girl to represent the school as Mr. and Ms. Scarlack. This year the class of 2015 chose Cole McCreary as Mr. Scarlack. Cole McCreary is a member of the varsity tennis team, academic team and National Honor Society. He is a Senior Salute, a Governor's Scholar, and WSAZ's Best of the Class. Cole was accepted into the honors program at Georgetown College and received a scholarship to play tennis there. The class of 2015 selected Mollie Workman as Ms. Scarlack. She is a member of the varsity soccer team, track team and National Honor Society. She is a Senior Salute, a PEPP Delegate, DAR Good Citizen, and WSAZ's Best of the Class. Mollie plans to continue her education at Campbellsville University.

4. Girls tennis wins a 5th region title and boys take home a 7th region title.
3. Baseball goes to state.
2. Soccer team goes to state 3 years in a row.
1. Three time homecoming champs

The class of 2015 had a blast their last year in LC. After winning the spirit stick for the third time, the seniors knew this would be a good year. After the long winter with lots of snow days, spring brought the anthology, and the stress that comes with it. The end of the year also brought special senior events including the ACTC picnic, senior trip, Reds game and Kings Island. Although all will attest to the challenges they faced in high school, the class of 2015 is ready to start the next chapter of their lives.

The spring senior photo includes baseball, softball, tennis, JROTC, track, and honors choir. Front l-r: Noah Lambert, Josh Cantrell, Brandon Rose, Warren Price, Jacob West, Shelby Hay, Abby Haynes, Chelsea Shepherd, Justin Hinkle, Mollie Workman, Tessa Boyd, Alley Pigmon, Cole McCreary, Eric Salyers; Second row l-r: Jess Napier, Hali Young, Sarah Mundell, Alison Horton, Lakin Radcliff, Grace Adkins, Sydney Kinev, Laken Fitch, Whitney Wirth, Mary Kelley, and Savannah Cyrus

A sophomore's day falls into a pretty steady routine. An average day includes English with Mrs. Smith and world history with either Mr. Holt or Mr. Blevins. Biology is taught by Mr. Meddings or Mrs. Hall. There are several choices for math: geometry with Mrs. Burton, Algebra II with Mrs. Puryear, or integrated math with Mrs. Shirkey. Most sophomores end up in B lunch, then spend thirty minutes in A/ A preparing for their end of course assessments. Before you know it, 3:20 is here and another day is over.

Starting high school makes one face the unknown: Will I fit in? Can I open my locker? Are my classes going to be hard? Where is my bus? Will I get lost? Who will I sit with at lunch?

But after a few weeks, you feel like you have been here forever and see that you didn't have to be worried after all. By the time Homecoming Spirit Week is over, you realize you might just like high school after all.

Homecoming

A Lawrence County tradition

Homecoming brought with it a spectacular showcase of school spirit. The week kicked off with the first dress-up day: favorite holiday or teacher look-alike. This was also the start of the philanthropy project: a supply drive for the Youth Service Center and a coin drive, which raked in over $1,260 for the Lawrence County Shelter. Tuesday brought with it senior citizens shuffling through the halls and students sporting their retro outfits. This was also the day when academic testing was held. Wednesday provided a break for students, as it allowed them to leave class in the morning for gym day. Since it was hillbilly/nerd day, students in overalls and suspenders competed against each other in athletic challenges. Thursday provided yet another break for students in the afternoon. Students jogged to the football field in jerseys and camo for field day. The heat, unfortunately, was a bit of a problem, but the students pulled through and did their best. Finally, Friday arrived. Students frantically put up decorations for their side of the gym and stood back in awe at their creations. At the end of the day, students performed their skits and talent - events they had been straining to plan and practice for weeks on end. Seniors pulled in the win for the third and final time, rejoicing in their triumph.

The Great Race is always a crowd-pleaser. In this five-person event, the four teams must complete a series of far-fetched tasks: racers unravel a roll of toilet paper with their noses, somersault, wheelbarrow, and put on pantyhose, which is a task reserved for the guys. After struggling across the finish line, Austin Chaffins, dressed in pantyhose, brings home a win for the juniors.

Field Day and Gym Day

Gym day is full of different sports, but it's much more than that. The famous shopping cart float competition also takes place. The freshman class created a concession stand float and gave out tasty treats and popcorn. Sophomores built the house from the Disney movie UP. Top left, the juniors design a colorful clown car float. The seniors recreate the District 12 chariot from The Hunger Games. Bottom left, as Katniss and Peeta, portrayed by Cassidy Cyrus and Cole McCreary, walk by, seniors raise three fingers - a gesture found in the book and movie. The seniors' creativity won the event.

Discovered Talents...

When asked if Lawrence County has talent, we are sure to prove it. Each grade showcased their most talented individuals in front of the entire student body. As usual, there were many talented bands and singers; however, each grade seemed to put its own twist on the definition of "talent" in their performance.

The freshman class had Anna Grayson, the first-ever yodeler, and Shelby Skeens, who rapped a song with a group of friends.

The sophomores started with an energetic dancer, continued on with Shawn Moore's ball-handling skills, and ended the performance with Natalie Rice and a group of friends singing "Rumor Has it" by pop star Adele.

Junior talent was also a crowd-pleaser as Keith Brown did his original rap, and show-stoppers Maelyn Huff and Destiny Chapman wowed the crowd with their performance of "Something Bad" by country singers Miranda Lambert and Carrie Underwood.

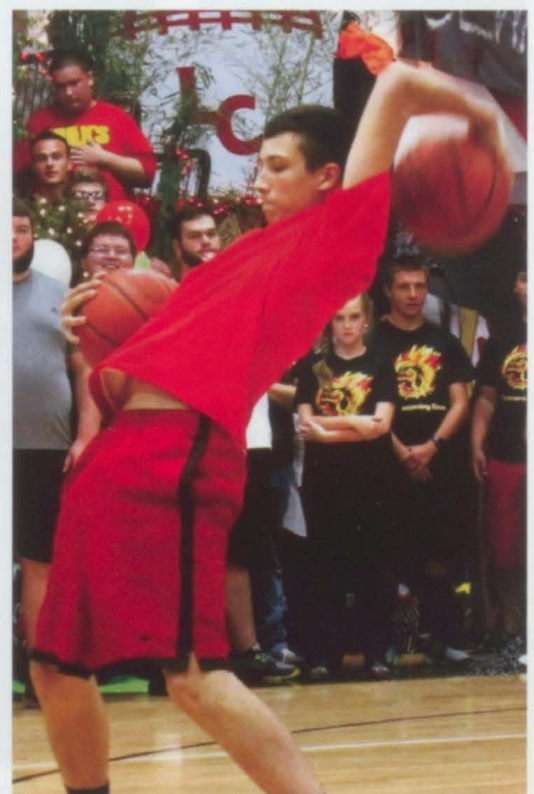

The senior class began with "Bringing Spirit Back", a barber shop quartet version of "Bringing Sexy Back" featuring Laken Fitch, Sydney Kinev, Abby Haynes, and Shelby Hay with a solo by Shayna Fortney. After the unique performance, they were joined by Mary Kelley and sang the more serious "Waiting on the World to Change" by John Mayer, while Justin Lemaster played acoustic guitar. Wrapping up their talent, the same group performed "I'll Always Remember You" by Miley Cyrus, grabbing the emotions of the seniors at their last homecoming. Throughout the entire performance a slideshow of the seniors' favorite memories, created by Hannah Daniels, was shown.

Destiny Chapman and Maelyn Huff belt out "Something Bad".

Sophomore Shawn Moore shows off his ball-handling skills.

At the Homecoming pep rally, each grade was asked to perform their own version of the fight song.

Freshmen started off with members of the class getting involved and performing the traditional fight song.

Sophomores put their own twist on the song as they got down with the grandmas of the crowd, performing a humorous "throwback".

The Junior class circus came to town as members of the class danced to the jingle of the fight song while dressed as clowns.

Senior Kortney Shirkey gave a memorable speech on what homecoming meant to the school and community and got all grades involved in singing the original song together. Lastly, a short video by Paul Stepp was shown. In it different seniors each said one word to create the fight song.

Homecoming Skit

An Inside Look

Homecoming is synonymous with competitiveness. The week was filled with late night practices, friendly trash talking, and one class helping another. The skits are one of the most anticipated events. The juniors' theme was "The Circus." It was packed with mischievous clowns, tight rope walking, and many group performances. Every class's worst nightmare during homecoming is when another class performs to the same song; this happened to the freshmen and juniors when they both used the song, "Shake It Off" by Taylor Swift.

The sophomores' theme was High School Musical. They showed off their dancing skills as they bopped their way to the top with several musical numbers. The freshmen theme was "America's Got Talent." Their skit was packed with hip-hop dancing, kung-fu fighting and a variety of musical talents.

Hours spent in choreography and practice are put to the test for juniors during the skit on the day of the big pep rally.

Old man Grant Kiser is pestered by noodle-wielding hooligans.

The junior boys shake their tail feathers in large thermals to the "Chicken Dance."

Makenzie Frazier and Jake Wellman "Bop to the Top."

The sophomores show LC pride.

Shanetta Bevins assists Malachi Clark in his kung-fu fighting.

Brad Parks hangs in the back while Sierra Jude shows that "America's Got Talent."

Seniors dance it out to The Hunger Games' signature song, "Rue's Whistle."

The sophomores, fronted by Allyson and Kailee, are "All In This Together"!

The seniors' theme was The Hunger Games as shown above by Abby, Shayna, Alley and Hali. After battling, dubstepping, and waving flags, the class of 2015's hard work paid off. The week always proves to be competitive as the score was very close between the juniors and seniors. The Homecoming Skit always reflects the pride and spirit of Lawrence County High School.

Paul Stepp, Ethan Tackett, Eric Salyers, Morgan O'Brian, Casey Keese, Noah Lambert, Tyler Pack, Bryant Payne, and Ben Mattingly show their feminine sides as they dance to the song "We Wear Short-Shorts."

Crowning the Queen

Miss Cassidy Cyrus was crowned 2014 Homecoming Queen. The Homecoming ceremony took place September 26th at Luke Varney, Jr. Memorial Stadium. The night was picture perfect for the twelve lovely ladies selected from the senior class to grace the court. The court also included three underclassmen chosen by their classmates to represent their grades. The band played "Open Arms" by Journey as the ladies walked onto the field. Reigning 2013 Homecoming Queen Samantha Fitzpatrick, escorted by superintendent Dr. Fletcher, was there to crown the queen. She was accompanied by attendants Bryson York, Laynie York and McKinley Burton.

Regional Runner-Up

Each season starts with high expectations and the Bulldogs were up to the challenge. Their tough non-district schedule included several nail-biting games that put the crowd on the edge of their seats. An intense game at Breathitt County broke into a fight resulting in several ejections from both teams, but the Bulldogs prevailed. After the Dawgs spoiled the Rams' Homecoming last year, Raceland came to Louisa and returned the favor. Senior night was marred by miserable weather, with rain and freezing temperatures, but that did not stop the Dawgs from playing their hardest. Wins over Sheldon Clark and Pike County Central garnered a district runner-up title and a home game for the first round of the playoffs. The boys won their playoff games against Morgan County and Magoffin County, which gave them a rematch against perennial regional rival Belfry. The Bulldogs ended their season with a loss to the Pirates, who later became class 3A state champions. Ultimately, it was a great season for LCHS, the team, and the fans as the Bulldogs completed the season with 9 wins and 4 losses.

Seniors experience a bittersweet senior night, but enjoy the years they've played together.

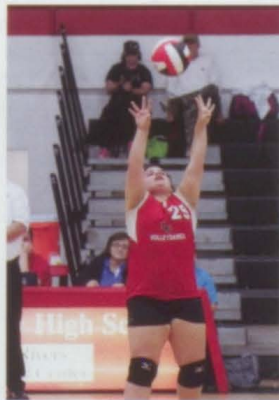

Coach April York moved to Lawrence County from Cincinnati where volleyball is a big deal. She played throughout high school, college, and into her adult years on several teams. She didn't know what to expect of her new team, but she was excited to be able to play more and to start her coaching career. The high point of the season, according to Coach York, is when the varsity team beat East Carter. The score was 1-2, and East Carter was ahead by 6. LC came back and won the fourth set and continued to win the fifth and final set, a difficult but great win for the team. The hardest part of her first year coaching was saying goodbye to seven seniors. The season record didn't turn out exactly as she thought, but the girls always played hard, and Coach York built relationships with many girls and their families. Her first year at LC was unforgettable.

Lady Soccer Dawgs

Starting off the season with a new head coach was a different atmosphere for the Lawrence County Soccer Team. Coach Paul Chapman was determined to continue success with the Soccer Dawgs, pushing hard every day before and during the season and preparing for the change in district competition with new drills and a new coaching style.

Despite several head injuries and an emotional senior injury, the Soccer Dawgs kept kickin' and ended their season rather successfully. They won a fourth district championship, a third region championship, and visited the state tournament for a third time. Their winning season record was 19-5-0.

District Runner-Up

The Lady Bulldog basketball team, led by four returning seniors, had a new beginning. During their second season with coach Melinda Feltner, they were able to put in more work over the summer and off-season. The ladies had one goal in mind, a district championship. Moving into a new district opened the door for success. During the district tournament, the Lady Dawgs defeated Pike County Central, whom they had lost to earlier in the year. Unfortunately, they were unable to pull out the victory against Belfry in the district championship. As district runner-ups, they advanced to the region tournament, becoming the fifth LCHS girls basketball team to do so. They lost in the first round of region, but they had exceeded expectations and ended their season with a record of 12-18.

Senior Shelby Hay serves it up.

Senior Chelsea Shepherd gets down to return a low forehand volley

Senior Cole McCreary returns the ball with a strong forehand.

Senior Jake West gets a nice angle on a backhand volley.

Winning a 7th region title came as no surprise for this team, but sadly, long-time coaches Chad Williams and Kelli Dixon announced that this would be the last for them. They went out with a bang; however, racking up a 5th region title for the girls team and a 7th region title for the boys.

Reigning singles region champion Abby Haynes and reigning singles region runner-up Shelby Hay, both seniors, teamed up as doubles partners. They took home the girls region doubles champion title this year against long-standing rival Johnson Central. Eighth grader Bailey Thompson was the region singles champion. Senior Chelsea Shepherd and 8th grader Eden Webb were girls doubles semifinalists. Thompson, as well as both girls doubles teams, played in the state tournament, as they have in past years.

Senior Cole McCreary took home the boys region singles championship for a 5th time. Senior Jake West also put up a great fight in the singles region tournament, but fell short in the match. Sophomores Alan Lin and Nicholas Kessinger teamed up in the region tournament, becoming semi-finalists as well. McCreary, Lin and Kessinger went on to play in the state tournament.

The matches at state were extremely competitive, with the players playing their hearts out for their coaches and themselves.

The Lady Dawgs are #1 in the district with a 6-0 record. With lots of hard work and team effort, they have three of the top players in the region, Hali Young, Savannah Cyrus, and Ciana Bowen. These girls show perseverance and good sportsmanship in every game. These Lady Dawgs are ALL IN!

Everyone in the dugout is focused on the game. Well, almost everyone.

Good job!

Ciana Bowen pitches a winning game!

Senior Savannah Cyrus runs for first base.

Senior Hali Young throws the ball from short stop.

Cheering on the Bulldog Nation

Are you proud to be a Bulldog?

As football Friday night approaches cheerleaders prepare to pump up the crowd. The girls cheered the Dawgs on to 9 wins and only 4 losses. After 13 weeks of cheering from the heat of the season opener to the rains of senior night and the cold of playoffs, the girls move into the gym for basketball. Both the boys and girls basketball teams had successful seasons that led to the regional tournament at the Expo Center in Pikeville. The end of basketball brought an end to the cheerleaders' year-long season. No matter what the sport or season, cheerleaders show through their time and dedication that they are All In.

Powder Puff is the touch football showdown between the senior and the junior girls. The game is always intense because of the rivalry between the classes. At the end of the second half the score was 0-0, so the game went into overtime. During overtime Layken Chapman scored a touchdown for the juniors, putting them ahead with the score 6-0. Next, the seniors scored a touchdown and got the two-point conversion to win with the final score of 8-6.

At halftime, Layken Chapman, Ally Marcum, and Addy Frazier don't let the score bring them down.

A Night in Paris

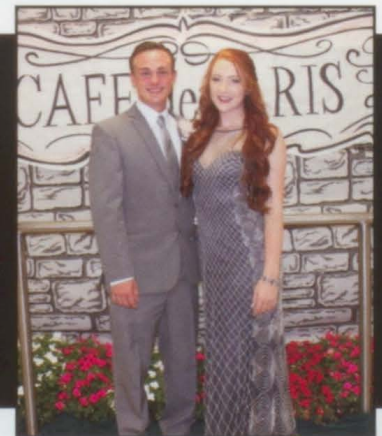

On May 2, the prom "A Night in Paris" was held from 8:00 PM to midnight. Sixty-five couples went through the Grand March and entered the gym, which was decorated like an outdoor Parisian cafe, complete with a fourteen-foot-tall Eiffel Tower. Strings of lights hung in the tent that covered the black and white checkered dance floor. White wrought iron chairs and tables and a huge assortment of live flowers completed the theme. The dance floor was filled with students dancing for hours. Members of the Prom Court were given red roses as they were announced. Noah Lambert was voted Prom King and was crowned by junior class co-president Ally Marcum. Alley Pigmon was voted Prom Queen and was crowned by junior class co-president Shelby Alger. Noah and Alley began their dance and were joined the court.

Dia de los Muertos, or Day of the Dead, is a Latin American holiday celebrated on October 30, November 1, and November 2. During this time, people celebrate with food and festivals and honor dead family members and friends. Common holiday traditions are dressing up and painting faces, as shown by Mrs. Price's Spanish classes.

Class elections are held in September. Many students from all grades campaigned, giving speeches about the changes they would make to the school and how they would benefit the student body. Math Night and Freshmen Showcase took place simultaneously in the gym. The students that attended had a evening full of different activities. Moments that made memories

Smashing a pie in a teacher's face is not usual behavior for Anna Clay.

Mr. Meddings experiences a bittersweet moment after being "pi"ed

Caleb Curry lets the suspense build before he pies Mrs. Puryear.

Pi Day is celebrated on March 14 ($3/14$, the first digits of pi). Pi is a mathematical constant and is the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter. On Pi Day, people celebrate by throwing pies in faces, and this year, the people with the highest math MAP scores in each grade got the chance to hit teachers with pies.

Makenzie Frazier and Nick Kessinger drive go carts at UNITE, an event where students learn how being under the influence affects driving.

Veterans' Day was celebrated on November 11. Students in JROTC honored veterans, some speaking about the men and women that served, others singing in tribute to the veterans. Mr. Dillow was the keynote speaker at the event, and he gave a speech about his service. Attending veterans ended the ceremony with the stirring 21 gun salute.

Tessa Boyd, Tyler Pack, Hali Young, and Jadrien Lemaster form the business Tie Dye Guyz at the Bazaar with Mr. Geneve.

At Close the Deal, which took place on October 20th, seniors spent the day at First Baptist Church and got the opportunity to speak with important people in society, including college representatives, employers, and professionals in the community. The event is a way for the school and community to assist seniors in planning their futures.

Justin Lemaster plays the guitar along to the song "Wonderwall."

Sydney Kinev boldly sings her solo "Give Me One Reason."

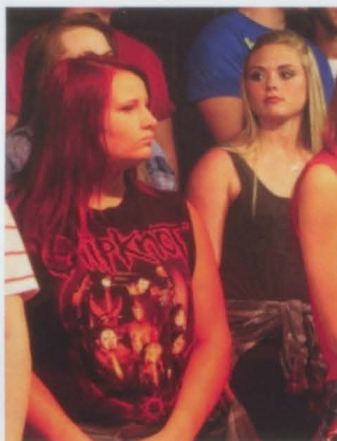

Jennifer Cyrus sings back-up harmony.

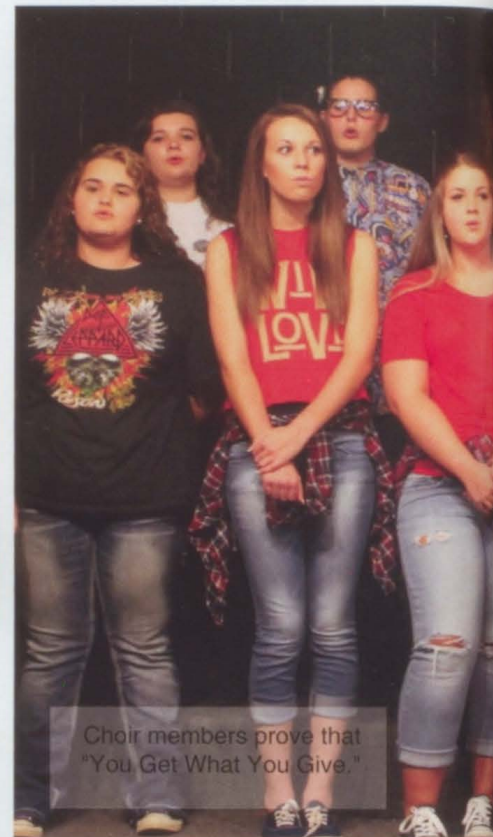

Follies

Follies, which took place on May 21 and 22, is the annual performance of choir, drama, and guitar students. This year songs from the 1990s were featured. Mrs. Delong spends many months preparing her students, teaching them to sing and play numerous songs and directing the students who act in the different skits.

Each photo is linked to an Aurasma video of different performances from both nights of Follies.

Choir members prove that "You Get What You Give."

Alexandre Mitchell, Mary Kelley, Casey Keesee, and Ben Hayes calm their nerves before the opening number, "Fishing in the Dark."

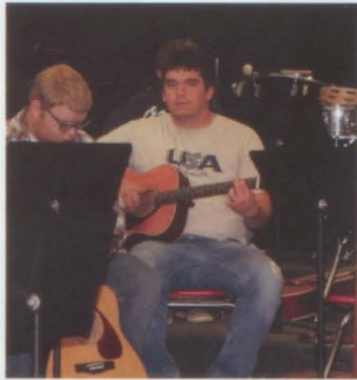

Jessica Ramey, Brooklyn Conn, Madi Cassell, Anna Grayson, Mary Kelley, Shelby Skeens, and Jodi Perkins sing their parts of "Runaround."

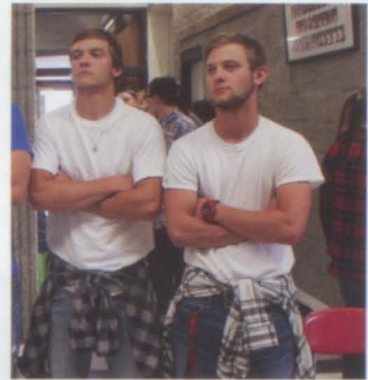

Keith Brown and Justin Hinkle (with Justin Dudley) impress with their rap styling in "One Week."

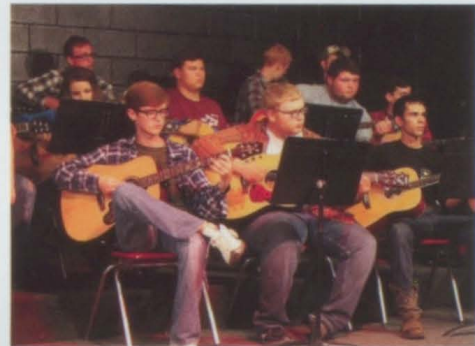

Warren Price is "Barely Breathing" during the performance.

Boy bands of the '90s have nothing on Josh Cantrell and Morgan O'Brian.

Lexie Prince, Hailey Hewlett-Gussler and Carley Mills are "Waiting on the World to Change."

Ethan Tackett and Cameron Hale play "Linger" with the other guitar students.

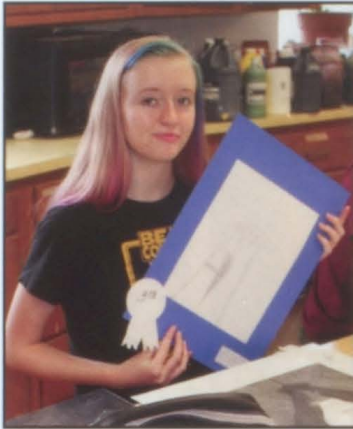

Jacob Osborne, Luke Schaeffer, Morgan O'Brian, and Devon Perry are "Walking in Memphis."

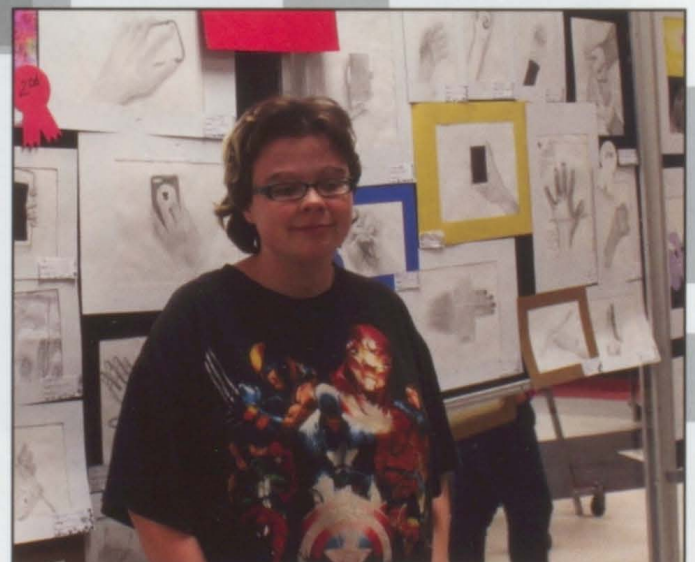

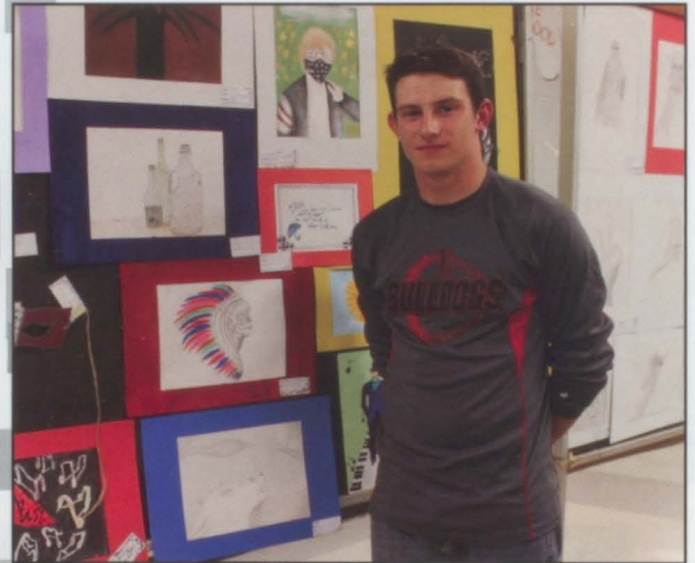

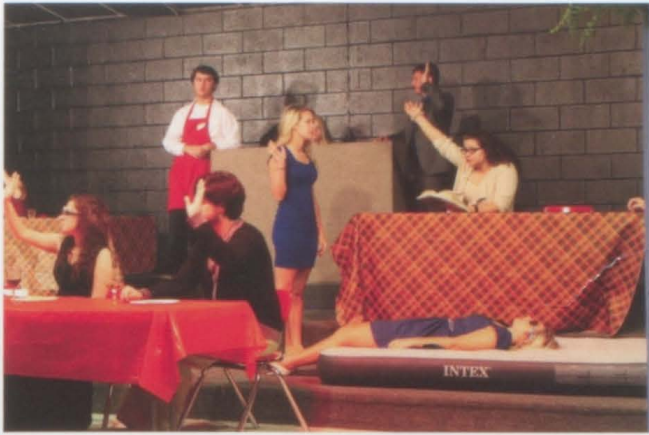

The night ended with the Red Hot Chili Peppers' "Under the Bridge."

Art Show

On Friday, May 22, the art classes held their annual Art Show in the cafeteria to showcase their works from throughout the year. Art of all different media, such as clay, charcoal, pastels and acrylic, completely filled the room. Proud parents, students, and members of the community attended the show and admired the students' imagination and creativity. Aside from ribbons given to the best artwork in a specific category, Maria Montes won the People's Choice award for her rendition of Starry Night by Vincent Van Gogh.

"Dinner at Eight, Dead by Nine"

Drama class performed a murder mystery that kept the audience guessing until the very end. For the first performance Ashton Marcum (top left) was the unfortunate victim, while Nicole Christian (lower left) took that role for the second performance.

The IT Crowd

Casey Keesee and Cole McCreary take social awkwardness to a new level when invited to Mary Kelley's party.

On May 21st, Mr. West's engineering classes had their annual boat race at the Three Rivers Medical Center pond. The boats were made of duct tape and cardboard, following the strict guidelines set forth by Mr. West. The pond was surrounded by spectators from LCHS, Fallsburg Elementary, Louisa Middle School, and members of the community. The day was unseasonably chilly on the unfortunate sailors whose vessels sank. Hayden Kiser, Derek Null, Tristan Johnson and Addy Frazier claimed bragging rights as the winners.

Moving up

On the afternoon of the last day of school, underclassmen awards were given. Students were recognized for being the top student, giving their best effort, being most improved, or earning a distinguished score on an end of course assessment. The day ended with the teachers forming a tunnel for the juniors to pass through as they moved into their new section of the gym. The freshmen and sophomores followed suit.

Academic perfection

Six students graduated with a 4.0 GPA, which means all A's for four years of high school. Left to right, those students are Cassidy Cyrus, Mollie Workman, Cole McCreary, Ashleigh Adkins, Warren Price, and Laken Fitch.

All In to our Future

DETERMINATION was the theme of the evening as Mr. Armstrong made the arduous trip up the aisle leading the graduates to the end of their twelve years of education. After the members of the Board of Education and Representative Jill York were seated, Bryant Payne gave the invocation. Superintendent Dr. Fletcher welcomed the guests and graduates to the ceremony and introduced former superintendent Mike Armstrong. The audience rose in a standing ovation as Mr. Armstrong stood with the aid of a cane to make his address. He spoke of the terrible automobile accident that five months before had forever changed his life. He then asked the graduates to pick up the copy of "Desiderata" by Max Ehrmann that had been placed in their seats and join him in an oral reading of the poem. Next to speak was the class president and the Top of the Class honorees. Principal Christy Moore declared that the class had met the requirements for graduation and Dr. Fletcher awarded diplomas to the 127 students as they crossed the stage. After Paul Stepp gave the benediction, Mrs. Moore presented the class of 2015. The flurry of graduation caps in the air brought a close to the ceremony.

Last Feather

You've been a part of me every moment of your life.
I was there to watch you grow, hold you, encourage you, celebrate with you, to give your feathers for your wings.
Now I see the beautiful woman you've grown to be.

And as I slowly step into the gentle chapter of letting go,
I hold you close to my heart and bless you with the amazing life you so deserve.
I quietly let you go with a heart fiercely longing to hold you to me forever.

You've been a precious part of me every single moment,
And now with a joyful heart I celebrate your life.
I open up my arms . . . And let you fly.

Love,
Mom
